5th Sunday in Lent/ Palm Sunday April 3rd /10th 2022

COMMUNION

The Lutheran Church teaches that Holy Communion is the true body and blood of our Lord Jesus Christ given with the bread and wine. Christ instituted this meal to strengthen Christians in their faith. We welcome to this meal all baptised Christians who repent of their sins, who believe in Jesus as their only Saviour, and who intend to live as God wants them to. If this is not your confession, or you are unsure, you're invited to come forward for a blessing – please cross your arms in front of you to indicate this to the pastor.

Prayers from the Lutheran

General Prayers

- The staff and students of Peace College, and other schools in our parish, as they begin two weeks holiday. May they be safe and be able to rest after a difficult start to the school year.

Confirmation

Please let Pastor Greg know as soon as possible if there are any young people aged 12 or more who may be ready for confirmation this year so that classes can be organised.

Safety of Children

Please keep the front gate at church closed. It is not being unwelcoming. It is making sure that we care about keeping our children safe

Trinity Sunday Services

Something to think about

Hospitality: Have you been to an establishment lately that perhaps was short-staffed and the service was not what you would expect? Good hospitality is in short supply in our culture right now. Hospitality is often taken for granted but makes a lasting impression, especially in the church. More than ever before, the hospitality your church shows can make an impact on your community. 10 minutes

1. Don't talk to your besties: There's nothing wrong with having close friends in the church (in fact, there's much right about that), but the weekly gathering is the one time each week when all the people you don't naturally bump into are gathered in one place. Don't miss that opportunity to experience the fullness of the body of Christ by getting to know those who are unlike you or from different life stages and interests. Not only will you benefit from a more diverse fellowship, but over time the supernatural unity of the Spirit will be gloriously on display as members of a church family have genuine care and concern for those outside their immediate circles....

2. Don't talk to blood Similarly, in those first ten minutes after the service, skip the chit-chat with your family. This is not to denigrate your family. If you get to regularly attend church with your extended family, that is a gift from God to be cherished. But very often, one's family becomes the relationally safe enclave that undermines more intentional branching out into the broader church family. If your habit is currently to huddle up with your family to chat after church, it's time to replace that habit with a better one. You'll talk to your family later, so in those first moments after the official time is done, reorient your family outward toward the broader fellowship of the church family.

3. Don't talk shop While circumstances will arise that need the attention of a staff member or ministry leader, the goal in the minutes prior to and following the service is to be freed up for fellowship...The shop talk can wait or be accomplished with an email. You might even need to politely tell a fellow ministry leader, "Let's discuss this later. I want to go meet those people before they leave." In doing so, you're not only prioritizing what matters, you're setting the tone for a culture in which all the ministry leaders are flock-oriented.

Habits are what we do without noticing. Most people are not actively trying to have shallow relationships with the church family. But without realizing it, many people are missing the gift of rich church fellowship due to unexamined Sunday habits. I encourage you to devote ten minutes after the service for conversing with others in the faith family—and soon you'll likely find that ten minutes is not nearly enough.

LENTEN THEMES

One of Job's most famous statements appears in Job 19:25: I know that my Redeemer lives, and that in the end he will stand on the earth. The book of Job has a message for us now, more than ever.

Sunday April 3: Job 23:1–17 Think about:

1. Job 23:10 states, "When he has tested me, I will come forth as gold." Why does God test his people? What is your current test?
2. What qualities does gold have that God wants for you?
3. Has any good come from suffering and pain in your life?

Sunday April 10: Job 38:1–11 and answer these questions:

1. Why do you think God waited so long to answer Job?
2. Job and his friends were curved in on themselves. How do these verses broaden their horizon? How do they give you perspective?
3. How has God spoken to you in your storms?

The midweek Lenten services follow the theme: “Witnesses to Christ: People From His Passion” as recorded by St. John in his Gospel. This Lent, our life in Christ will be strengthened as we hear the witness of those who were present as part of Jesus' journey to the cross. Wednesday April 6: Witnesses to Christ – Pontius Pilate John 19:1-16

Lenten donations support Pastor Mick Hauser serving at Martin Luther Seminary, PNG and MAF-PNG

Roof Screws Replacement Maintenance

Would you like to assist in funding this project? Why not help by donating:

A box of screws ($50.00)

OR

A half box of screws ($25.00)

OR

Just a few screws (any amount)

4000 screws required @ 50c per screw.

100 screws per box = $50.00 per box.

Any donations will be thankfully received and will be tracked using this chart.

Amazing! We have 3 boxes of screws already!! 37 to go!!

PNG Birthing Kits

Just a reminder that we have kits just waiting for someone who can take some to PNG and pass them on to the women in villages without medical centres or hospitals.

If you have any old sheets, doona covers, soft curtains, tablecloths etc that you no longer need please bring them to church so they are ready to go in the next lot of kits

Rosters for 8:00am service

Please arrange a swap if you cannot help on your allocated day.
